

Bill Zimmerman: Humanitarian, Entrepreneur, ALS Warrior

In 1986, with a dream of starting an organization founded on integrity, service and honor, Bill Z opened the doors of LifePro Financial Services, Inc., a company dedicated to the financial protection and preservation of families and their loved ones as well as to the advisors who serve them with proven financial strategies. Bill's passion for the financial industry has always been based on his core belief that if he did what was right for the consumer, and LifePro's partners, everybody would win.

Now in its 32nd year, LifePro is considered one of the premier organizations of its kind in the country. With its robust and energetic staff and its strong executive leadership team, the company supports thousands of advisors helping untold numbers of families accumulate and preserve tremendous amounts of wealth.

Bill's vision and personal campaign to help others did not end with the countless hours he spent each week with financial institutions, consumers and advisors. Over the last 30 years Bill has also devoted his time both inside and outside the industry to helping individuals overcome challenges on their personal paths to recovery from addiction to drugs and alcohol. Bill is the founder of an addiction recovery group at his Clubhouse that has met every week for well over 20 years. For several years now, he has devoted every Saturday to sponsoring and mentoring those in need. He has personally mentored over 500 people both inside and outside the addiction community. The actual amount of time Bill has spent giving back can be measured in decades.

In the summer of 2015 Bill was diagnosed with ALS, a progressive neurodegenerative disease that affects nerve cells in the brain and spinal cord. Through ups and downs, procedures and treatments, Bill has continued to maintain the same great attitude that has brought him so much success in life and has become a true advocate and crusader for those that share his battle against this vicious disease.

Bill Z is more than just an entrepreneur, a mentor, an advocate for anyone in need, and he's more than just an ALS warrior. Bill Z is a true humanitarian and one of the greatest men to grace our community.

Please help Bill Z and others who boldly fight their courageous battles against ALS by participating in or sponsoring The Bill Zimmerman ALS Golf Classic!
